OUR 118th BIRTHDAY

GR 12 COCKTAIL FUNCTION SPEECHES

LEAH LAUBSCHER
(Executive Head Girl)

It's such an honour to be gathered here as a form for the last time. Just us. The same teenage girls who walked into these gates 5 years ago and those joined us since then, are young adults now. It's strange looking into someone's eyes and realising that their face although seeming familiar is different than how it appeared a few years or even months ago. I'm referring to physical appearance of course, but moreover to the change in our character.

I face ladies who have faced immensely mentally challenging obstacles but refused to give up: who are now taking even bigger steps than they did before those “disasters” struck. I face ladies who are beyond determined to achieve the great things they are destined for. And I face ladies who have a fire in their heart, containing extreme passion for what they form a part of. I cannot express in words, how incredibly inspiring this group of girls is. You all make me so so so proud.

Although we have definitely grown a lot in our Grade 8 to 11 years, I feel that our matric year has evidently been the year we've grown the most. Matric has provided us all with a multitude of challenges we've never had to face before, therefore it continuously provided our form with opportunities for growth we never had been gifted with before. “Gifted”. That's what this year was: a gift. I am grateful that I got to go through this year with you ladies. There's not any other group of people I would have rather done so with. The year wouldn't have been the same without every single person here present. Thank you all for making all the difficult times worth it, and the experiences memorable. You made this year the stunning year it was.

I also just wish to turn to two more people who helped make this year as enjoyable as it was and allowed everything to run as smoothly as it did: Mrs Schutte and Mrs Steyn. Thank both of you for being the Day girls' “mothers” and main support system. And personally, thank you for being patient with me, guiding and supporting me in all projects I was involved in regard to the Day girls.

Lastly, I wish to celebrate that this is the last exam season of our high school career. We've made it, well almost. I just want to encourage everyone to give it their all one last time. Your efforts are noticed, and you will be rewarded. I wish you all nothing less than a successful exam season and prosperous future.

Thank you, once again, for being my form mates.

DAKALO MOYO

(Deputy Executive Head Girl)

2020 was the year we began shining and experiencing challenges. In Grade 9, boarders parted ways to the three big hostels. Although we were placed in different environments, we essentially experienced one memory. From struggling with unfair loadshedding to getting Ted-Ed talks from the seniors that we trusted, we all experienced different versions of the same thing, moulding us into a unit without us even realising it.

We also had an interesting school year. During first term, we were meeting new friends, asking day girls to get us supplies for technology projects, and constantly reminding the LEC that their Grade 8's weren't greeting! Next thing we knew, bam... We started online learning and constantly watched national family meetings with uncle Cyril telling us "That it's chaa!". However, despite the differences and distance, we still managed to continue our friendships.

Grade 9 was the true start of our legacy when we were out of the hands of Lesedi, Jordan and Mirila. I would like to say thank you to the LEC members who were able to maintain the standard set by our matrics despite the challenges. We stuck to our goals and accountability and fairness. The hardest part of this job was not the actual duties, but dealing with people, learning about people and learning that heavy is the head that wears the crown. I could not have asked for a better team than you - beautiful, courageous and reliable women. Take this time to rest from the duties and my wish is that you receive abundant fruits from your labour due to the example you have set for others.

I would also like to thank Ms Gray for looking after our form this year. Thank you for being our mediator and availing yourself to be our advisor. I would also like to acknowledge your love for literature and your desire to realise the unseen worlds we read. Thank you to the homeroom teachers for your care and all the special bonds you established during homeroom period. Thank you for waking up every day and putting a smile on your face even though we did not always reciprocate.

Matrics, we learned to have 20/20 vision, to walk with dignity, to stay true to Girls High traditions and to stay steadfast amidst the waves of adversity. We have accomplished much. Beautifully so.

GR 12 COCKTAIL FUNCTION SPEECHES

THATO BOOI

(Deputy Executive Head Girl)

I would like to begin by giving thanks to our very own headmistress, a woman of intelligence and pure class; a woman who epitomises wisdom which, as described in the book Proverbs 3:15, is more precious than rubies, nothing desirable can compare with her... Ms. Duganzich. Thank you for never failing to express your love and the confidence you have in us, even during challenging phases of our individual lives. Your effort in maintaining and uplifting the school's name does not go unrecognised.

Ma'am, every "I see you" moment, the "I am amazing, beautiful and awesome" daily affirmations, the hugs and moments of bliss shared will forever be cherished. Lastly, thank for simply being the amazing you, ma'am. You are and always will be a remarkable role model.

Secondly, thank you to our two incredible deputy principals for being our strictest yet most understanding deputy mothers. Ms. Scholtz, thank you for your amazing humour and for being one of the most authentic women out there.

To Mrs. Human, thank you for the life-long teachings shared with us throughout our five years of high school and most importantly, for always treating us fairly.

Finally, yet importantly 2023 MATRICS! I hope you have taken a moment to acknowledge your growth from 2019 to now. The shy, young Grade 8 who walked onto the school premises for the first time in 2019 is now approaching many goodbyes and the final stretch of her journey into the real world. Remember that you are putting in the final effort for her: the young girl in the blue dress. If you have not yet taken a moment to reflect, let this be it.

Many have left us along the journey, making us the strongest and the real soldiers standing. We have made it, this is it! We have witnessed each other grow into the women we are today. I pray and hope that we take all that we have learnt from The High School for Girls, Potchefstroom and use it in our future endeavours.

Personally, I believe we have been the best form, one of great maturity, intelligence, supportiveness, one that fully resembles their leaders from Grade 8 and of course gorgeousness. I mean, take a look at yourselves!

I wish us all the best in our final examinations and futures. Go out there and shine, young Girls' High Girl, you can make a difference.

KHANYISILE MPHAPHLANI
(Head of School House)

Despite everything returning to “normal” after the upheaval caused by COVID-19, Grade 11 revealed itself to be a challenging year, full of ups and downs. From the build-up to matric, to the stress of university applications, it was a year that tested our resolve.

The challenges were not easy, but we made it through. It was a year of growth and change, and we are grateful for the lessons it taught us. We learned to push through the tough times. This has made us stronger, more determined, and more self-aware. We found strength and courage within ourselves and discovered a new level of resilience.

Looking back on Grade 11, we realize that despite the hardships, we experienced some wonderful moments as well. Not only did we enjoy the support of our family and friends, but we developed our confidence, celebrated our accomplishments, and embraced each moment of joy. We now look forward to the future, with a renewed sense of hope and determination.

As we reach the end of our special journey at this wonderful institution called the High School for Girls, Potchefstroom, I would like to acknowledge the administrative staff who put in so much effort behind the scenes. Your dedication and hard work is noticed. Each task you complete, each person you help, has a ripple effect and ultimately makes our school a better place. Thank you for being a part of our lives.

To the hostel staff, who took such special care of us every day: Thank you for your stellar service. You brightened each day with your warm smiles and helpful guidance. Your dedication to making our stay as comfortable as possible is noteworthy. Thank you for your part in creating a home away from home.

GR 12 COCKTAIL FUNCTION SPEECHES

KENYA WINN
(Head of South Wing)

Billy Cox once said, “Life’s greatest difficulties always happen right before life’s greatest breakthroughs.” 2021 was an extremely uncertain year for us. We were starting new subjects, COVID-19 was at its peak, and we were never quite sure if we would be coming back to school in case of an outbreak. We didn’t have anything that was concrete, something that we could rely on to predict how the year would unfold.

Grade 10 was an on-and-off year, every two weeks we exchanged the classroom for our bedroom. When we were at school, we were disinfected like operating tools, and stood on blue dots when lining up for classes. Even when we were together, we were still forced to be apart. The year was anxiety-inducing because I clearly remember everyone worrying about how they would get a solid foundation in their subjects while they were doing distance learning; moreover, practicals and assignments were difficult to arrange due to all the uncertainty. The year was mentally taxing to say the least.

Despite all the challenges we faced, we came out victorious. And I say victorious because look at us now. Look at what we are achieving, individually and as a collective. Grade 10 was such a testing time, but in spite of this, we rose above the challenges.

Grade 10 proved to be more than just a foundation for our academic endeavours in Grade 11 and Matric, it lay the groundwork for our accomplishments now. When I say accomplishments, I am not referring to colours, trophies or certificates, I mean the resilience and perseverance I have seen all of you display time and time again. Grade 10 was an extremely difficult year, but it paved the way to the success we are reaping today.

While we are talking about success, I would like to thank the people who stood by us, and helped us through our struggles. First, to our hostel moms – the HM’s and SHM’s of School House, North House, North Wing, and South Wing respectively. Thank you for your support. You are always there for us when we face our most human difficulties, and you stand by us with sound advice and a sympathetic ear. Thank you for making hostel our second home. Secondly, I would like to thank the educators. The teachers who still, by some grace, have the patience to come to school every day and stand in class while we ask for the same explanation three times over. Thank you for pushing us to be our best, to do our best, and to reach for the stars.

I would like to leave you with one last quote by Billy Cox: “Choose to win each day. Defy the odds. Embrace challenges and never let adversity steal your dreams.”

MS DUGANZICH'S PRIZE GIVING REPORT

MS G DUGANZICH
(Headmistress)

Good afternoon one and all.

Before I commence with my address, I kindly request your attention to observe a non-partisan moment of silence in acknowledgement of the current Palestinian-Israeli crisis, which has impacted us on a global scale, and brought to the fore the devastating loss of so many innocent lives.

Thank you.

At the outset of my address, I would like to take a moment to acknowledge the presence of two distinguished individuals who have played a significant role in shaping the legacy of our school. Please join me in welcoming former deputy headmistress, Mrs Cartwright, and former member of our School Management Team, Mrs Coetzee. It is an absolute honour to have you here with us today.

I would also like to extend a warm welcome to Lesedi Mnisi, Makayla Niemack, and Alexia Duarte. These remarkable young ladies, all Matriculants of 2019, will be assisting with the handing out of prizes this afternoon. Your presence adds an extra layer of delight to this special occasion, and we are grateful to have you here with us.

To our distinguished guests, our School Governing Body members, Parents, educators, administrative and support staff, learners, and most importantly, our Matric Class of 2023, a heartfelt salutation to all of you.

It is truly a pleasure and an honour to stand before you today at this momentous event in the calendar of The High School for Girls, Potchefstroom - the annual Prize Giving Ceremony. This gathering holds a special place in our hearts as we come together to acknowledge and celebrate the remarkable achievements and accomplishments of our girls.

To launch my address, I would like to share a profound quote by Thomas Dexter Jakes, an American non-denominational preacher and author of several inspiring books. He once said, “If you don’t like the way your life is going, redesign it. Restore your vision, revive your passion for living, and reclaim what was dormant inside of you.”

I absolutely love this proclamation, most especially because of the manner in which it embodies the spirit of our theme for 2023 – “Revive”, and as we reflect upon the journey that 2023 has been, it is impossible not to be inspired by the theme that has guided us throughout the year: A theme which served as a constant reminder of the incredible power we possess to constantly breathe new life into our endeavours, our dreams, and ourselves. This powerful guiding mantra, marked each term with a collective effort to propel ourselves forward, towards growth, renewal, and positive transformation. Moreover, the words of TD Jakes resonate deeply with the spirit of today's gathering, as we recognise that each one of us has the power to shape our own destinies.

With that in mind, let us proceed with anticipation and excitement as we delve into the heart of this celebration, acknowledging the exceptional accomplishments of our extraordinary students. This afternoon, I hope I will be able to convey the transformative power of education and the limitless potential that lies within each and every one of our learners.

As a School of Excellence, our utmost priority is to ensure that every learner receives a high-quality education and has the opportunity to develop and achieve according to, or even beyond, her capacity to learn and perform. We firmly believe that our purpose is to prepare young women who, upon leaving the gates of our institution, will go out into the world and make a significant difference. This is precisely why we integrate the pillars of Academics, Sport, Culture, and Service.

The class of 2022 achieved remarkable results, with a 100% pass rate and a 92.3% bachelor pass rate. They amassed a total of 210 distinctions, and out of 92 matric students, 20 achieved aggregates of 80% or higher, with six candidates obtaining distinctions in all seven subjects. Our top scholar, Hannia Kempen, achieved an average of 92.7%, with seven distinctions.

Just as an aside, Class of 2023 – No pressure, but we obviously have high aspirations for your success – a 100% pass and we wholeheartedly hope for a bachelor pass of 95%.

Whilst we take the time to recognise the top achievers in the matriculation exams, we also acknowledge the hard work and personal achievements of each and every matric learner. We commend their dedication and commitment to their studies.

It is also important to emphasise that the outstanding results of 2022 were not achieved by our matric students alone, but by the collective effort of the entire school. What has been particularly noteworthy throughout this year is the evident improvement in the average performance of each grade as the year progressed. This remains a testament to our Growth Mind-set Approach, which reinforces our school motto: “Res Severa Verum Gaudium”!

The Growth Mind-set Approach underpins our commitment to providing high-quality learning experiences for all our students, fostering a culture of continuous development and a belief in the power of resilience and effort. We are thus immensely proud of the accomplishments of our matric class and the progress made by every learner in our school.

MS DUGANZICH'S PRIZE GIVING REPORT

But let us not forget that this incredible outcome would never have been possible in isolation. It is the result of the unwavering support, devotion, and dedication of our exceptional educators.

Their guidance, encouragement, and unwavering belief in our girls have been instrumental in nurturing their talents and creating an environment where our learners can truly thrive.

Let us take a moment to applaud our educators for their remarkable work.

While academic performance and curriculum coverage will always remain our top priority, the co-curricular programme at our school is equally important as it plays a vital role in developing well-rounded individuals, fostering teamwork, discipline, and a sense of camaraderie. Each week, our Communique has highlighted the active involvement and noteworthy achievements of our girls. Under the efficient and enthusiastic management of our Co-Curricular Coordinator, Mrs Kemp, we have had an impressive and eventful programme this year. We commend Mrs Kemp for her tireless efforts in organising these enriching experiences.

From our thrilling Inter-House competitions, including the Inter-House Gala, Athletics, Cross Country, and General Knowledge Quizzes held each term, to the engaging Derby Week, the House Play Festival, the weekly charity collections, and the Blanket Competition, our girls have showcased their talents, competitive spirit, determination, and sportsmanship.

Moreover, we eagerly participated in the National All Girls Festival in Bloemfontein in April this year, and the PPP Derby Day hosted at Parktown High School for Girls, in May. Both events further served to reinforce our commitment to excellence beyond the classroom.

We had an incredibly busy athletics season this year, participating in eight meetings throughout the year. We are immensely proud to highlight that Chezné Samson and Reatlegile Mampe represented North-West at the National School Sport Championships (NSSC), and at the ASA Youth and Junior Track and Field Championships, during the July holidays.

Our Cross Country athletes have been diligently training since the start of the athletics season in February, and they have shown tremendous progress and growth. The team competed in a total of seven leagues in term 3, as well as the Championships held at the Jool plaas. Lebogang Modise was selected for the ACNW Cross Country Team, which competed in the SA Cross Country Championships in Gqeberha, further demonstrating the level of excellence achieved by our athletes.

In addition to athletics, our Chess team also competed in league tournaments throughout the year and performed exceptionally well. Significantly, they emerged victorious at the PPP Derby Day - where both the junior and senior teams defeated Pretoria and Park Town Girls High.

Our hockey teams had an eventful season, participating in five tournaments and engaging in numerous friendly matches against neighbouring schools. We are proud to recognise the exceptional accomplishment of Kaitlin Smit, who was selected as the goalie for the AVS Hockey team, during Bokkieweek.

Additionally, we had the privilege of having 10 hockey players represent North West, showcasing our region's talent on the field. Although the North West league did not culminate as we had hoped, our girls exhibited unwavering commitment during their training sessions. Looking ahead, our pre-season is already in full swing, as we strive to further develop our skills and tactics.

Moving on to our Majorettes, their achievements have been nothing short of remarkable. They secured two first places at the NWMCA League, as well as two more leagues and the North West Provincial Championships, demonstrating their exceptional abilities. Their journey continued at the SAMCA National Championships in July, where they competed in categories - going up against a total of 12 teams per category.

Remarkably, they qualified for the finals in all seven categories, including both the large group and drill categories. Notably, their performance in the Classic Baton section earned them a respectable 5th place. The small drill squad also secured 5th position, while the small drill sub-leaders were awarded a well-deserved bronze medal. To add to the celebration, a total of 15 majorettes received their North West colours at the Provincial Majorette Trials for 2023.

Aside from numerous matches against local schools, our Netball teams participated in four major tournaments. Five players - two u16s and three u17s - represented North West at the All Ages Tournament.

Our squash team this year has an incredible group of players. They have shown an outstanding commitment with 99% attendance and have worked incredibly hard. We would like to congratulate Anele Mdulwa, who represented the North West Mixed Eden u16 team at the South Africa Country Festival.

The school swimming team competed in eight Johannesburg League Galas in term 1, as well as the North-West Inter-High Swimming Gala in February. Jasmine Erasmus participated in the SSA Level 2 Regional Championships and achieved a bronze medal in the 100m breaststroke and a silver medal in the 200m breaststroke. We would also like to acknowledge the achievements of Ella Williams, Jade Williams, Kiera Williams, and Amy Williams, who amassed gold, silver, and bronze medals at the Botswana 4th DMSS Gators Gala.

Finally, our tennis team participated in several league tournaments this year, with many players making significant strides in improving their skills.

In the sphere of culture, aside from our inter-house events, I would like to acknowledge the school choir's attainment of the prestigious Legato Award for Exceptional Performance of a Choral Work representing South African Cultural Heritage or Tradition.

In the realm of Dramatic Arts, congratulations to Siné Schutte who penned, and Tswanelo Langa who directed the Afrikaans One Act Play, which received an A+++ at the Allegretto Festival.

At this same National Festival, our junior and senior marimba teams obtained an A++ and A+++ respectively. Significantly, our senior marimba team was invited to showcase their talents at the International Conference on Artificial Intelligence hosted by the NWU in September.

Our Vocal Ensemble, who also participated in the Allegretto Eisteddfod achieved an A++ and vocalists, Nolitha Nxasana and Lurkicia Mosomane have been invited to perform at the Gala evening. We had several entrants for the Allegretto Eisteddfod, who entered items ranging from dramatised poetry to visual art, creative writing to thrashion, crocheting to slam poetry, public speaking, storytelling and unprepared reading. And if you think this is not enough of a showcase of our talents, we acknowledge Amorie Maass for obtaining a staggering 96% in the Radikale Redenaars Eidsteddfod.

In addition to our focus on academics, sports, and culture, our school places great importance on instilling a sense of service amongst our learners. Throughout 2023, our girls have demonstrated a strong commitment to upholding our traditions of the blanket competition, blood donation, charity collection, Mandela Week, and various outreach initiatives through our committed Interact Society, under the leadership of Lesego Monale.

This afternoon, I would like to highlight YET ANOTHER significant triumph. Our Grade 8 to 12 homeroom classes collectively raised an astounding total of R 69,399 through their weekly charity collection – just to contextualise this: an amount of R41 639, 60 was raised last year. This generous amount of charity raised will be utilised to purchase essential items for various charities. These donations will then be handed over to different organisations during our annual Children's Day event.

Additionally, our students dedicated their time and skills to knitting enough strips to create a remarkable total of 222 blankets! Furthermore, I am proud to announce that a total of 89 units of blood were donated – a remarkably selfless contribution to the lives of those in need.

MS DUGANZICH'S PRIZE GIVING REPORT

It is a great pleasure to see our girls participating in a variety of co-curricular and service activities - displaying their dedication, commitment, and hard work. We commend them for their outstanding achievements and applaud their coaches and educators for their unwavering guidance and support. We look forward to many more successful seasons and opportunities for our girls to showcase their talents and in turn reach their full potential.

One other event of great significance, which took place this year is that we hosted an Old Girls' Reunion. Coinciding with our Derby Day Finals and Big Walk, the reunion brought together former students who continue to show a strong connection and interest in their Alma Mater. It was truly a delight to entertain and reconnect with these past pupils who hold fond memories of their time at our school. This special occasion also marked the launch of our Traditions Committee, a legacy established by Mrs Steyn. Her unwavering dedication to the reunion organisation, alongside the committee head, Khanyisile Mphahlani, has been instrumental in ensuring the continued preservation of our school's remarkable 118-year-old history.

Our approach to your daughter's education has always been centred on the provision of outstanding facilities. Each year at Girls High, we strive to improve and maintain our existing buildings and school grounds. This year, we embarked upon a significant Capital Project, approved by our School Governing Body - the construction of a brand new set of classrooms.

This ambitious initiative will greatly enhance our campus facilities and provide our learners with much-needed additional learning spaces. The new building will feature three state-of-the-art laboratories and four spacious classrooms, complemented by modern ablution facilities. We are confident that this capital project will significantly benefit our school community, elevating the quality of education we provide, ensuring the preservation of small classroom sizes, and creating a conducive environment for our students to thrive.

In recent times, the substantial costs associated with running a generator and ensuring uninterrupted power supply during periods of load shedding has also prompted us to explore alternative energy solutions. Consequently, our school is embarking on a project to install solar panels. By embracing this sustainable initiative, we aim to reduce our carbon footprint and promote the use of renewable energy.

Through the installation of solar panels on the school campus and at the four hostels, we will not only save on energy costs but also demonstrate a commitment to sustainable practices within our school community.

And there is also the exciting introduction of Engineering Graphic Design in 2024, a new subject that we are proud to bring to our school. With the introduction of EGD, we are expanding our curriculum to include STEM-focused subjects, and as such, we firmly believe that we will provide our learners with even more of a well-rounded education that prepares them for the challenges and opportunities of the future.

I am sure we can all agree that this year has been exceptionally busy and filled with memorable events! Recognising what we truly appreciate in life means understanding who we are, what truly matters to us, and what makes each day worthwhile. With that in mind, I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude to a number of individuals who have played a crucial role in the ongoing success of our school.

Firstly, I extend my sincerest thanks to our two Deputy Headmistresses, Ms Scholtz and Mrs Human, who have proven themselves to be masters of logistics and planning. Your guidance and expertise in steering the Executive Management of our school is invaluable.

To our School Management Team, I am immensely grateful for your unwavering dedication in guiding, supporting, advising, and providing counsel throughout the entirety of this year. Your contributions have been instrumental in shaping our school's journey.

I would also like to acknowledge and express my gratitude to our School Governing Body, as representatives of our parents. Thank you for the pivotal role you have played in the governance of our school. In fact, it is our entire parent community that is instrumental to the success of our school. I wholeheartedly recognise and appreciate each and every one of you, your support, your commitment AND THE FACT THAT YOU HOLD US TO ACCOUNT!

A special thank you goes out to the parents of our Grade 12 students, who are joining us for the last time this afternoon. Your involvement over the years has made a significant difference in our school, and we are truly grateful for your support.

Matrics of 2023. As you embark on this new phase in your lives, I encourage you to seize every opportunity that comes your way. Remember to carry with you the values you have learned at The High School for Girls, Potchefstroom, as they will guide you on your journey. Always keep in mind that the true essence and ultimate purpose of education lies in making a meaningful contribution to the world around you.

Lastly, I would be remiss if I did not take a moment to express my deepest gratitude to my own family. Their love, unwavering support, and understanding have been the bedrock of my journey as headmistress. Without their constant presence and encouragement, I would not have been able to fulfil my role with such zealous devotion. Steven, Ruth, Jude and Aden, thank you from the bottom of my heart for being my pillars of strength.

Ladies and gentlemen, in conclusion, I implore you to let those profound words of Thomas Dexter Jakes which I shared with you at the outset, echo in your hearts: "If you find yourself dissatisfied with the trajectory of your life, it is within your power to redesign it. Rekindle your vision, reignite your passion for living, and reclaim the dormant potential that resides within you."

These words serve as a resounding call to action, urging each and every one of us to seize the opportunities that await us, to embark on a journey of self-discovery and personal growth, and to remember that we hold within us the power to shape our own destinies. Yes, indeed, we have the capacity to transcend the constraints imposed by circumstance and to forge our own unique paths.

Dear Girls, as you embark on this path of self-transformation, do not forget the indispensable role that a quality education from an esteemed institution plays in shaping your journeys. The High School for Girls, Potchefstroom, steadfast in its commitment to excellence, serves as a beacon of knowledge and inspiration, equipping you with the necessary tools, guidance, and unwavering support to carve out your futures. Within those hallowed halls of learning, you not only acquire knowledge but also cultivate resilience, critical thinking, and an insatiable thirst to be a lifelong learner.

I extend my heartfelt gratitude to each and every one of you for being a part of this remarkable occasion. May the cherished memories we have formed and the invaluable lessons we have learned in 2023 continue to remind us of our boundless potential and the infinite possibilities that lie ahead.

EXECUTIVE HEAD GIRL'S SPEECH

LEAH LAUBSCHER
(Executive Head Girl)

What does one say, when there's so much to talk about. When I was reminded of this message I had to deliver, my mind went blank for a few days. I'm speechless.

The High School for Girls Potchefstroom has been the space I needed during my teenage years. When I walked into Girls High's school gates nearly 5 whole years ago, I was terrified and so unsure. Unsure of whether it was the correct decision and whether everything would work out. If I could say one thing to my 14-year-old self I would say, "Don't worry about regrets: you won't have any."

Girls High as an institution has provided me a place where I feel safe and supported. But what I truly value are the experiences and moreover the people this school has allowed me to meet.

I don't think we've taken the time to attempt to comprehend how incredibly "rare" these years were- the likelihood of the exact situation we've ended up in. Everything that's happened wouldn't have been same if one aspect of it was absent. The place, events and people involved as well as the timeline they each follow have made our journey here into a once in a lifetime experience. The time I've gotten to share with my form mates here has been an absolute gift. We are, in actuality, beyond blessed. I will forever thank God that I got to spend the past however many years/months with you, matrics. I have already told you all, but I'll say it again: There's not any other group of people I would have rather done so with. The years wouldn't have been the same without every single person here present. I want to emphasise how much someone's presence matters. You are all significant, valued and have a special place in my heart. Thank you all for creating fond memories out of the tough situations. Then I want to give special thanks to my LEC members, deputies and close friends. I love you all, more than you could ever imagine. I wouldn't have made it through the past year if it wasn't for you ladies. Your smiles and hugs gave me energy on the days I felt like giving up. You are unforgettable.

Furthermore, I want to extend thanks to my educators from Grade 8 through to 12. You are the ones that make class enjoyable. Thank you for waking up every day and choosing to support, guide and love your students. You have set the example as to what true diligence and compassion is. Thank you for caring not only about our marks, but us as individuals.

Thank you to Ms Gray and Ms D, for being the best mentors I could've asked for. Thank you to my parents, and rest of my family, for being my no.1 supporters. You were the ones who believed in me even when I didn't myself.

If there's one lesson I learnt at Girls High, it's that you should never let someone else cause you to doubt yourself. Be steadfast in what you believe in and what/who you stand for. Find comfortability in your identity, in Christ. Be unapologetically you. Don't let the world and its people convince you that you are not worthy. God has a plan and purpose with your life. Even if you have been abandoned by everyone on earth, Jesus will never forsake you. With Him, you are never alone, and all things are possible.

There's so much more I could and would want to say. But I think I'll end it off here, by just saying thank you once again for being a part of my life and forming me into the person I am today. Thank you for having had bestowed on me the honour of being head girl.

HEAD OF NORTH WING

THATO BOOI

(Deputy Executive Head Girl)

A JOURNEY IN NORTH WING, MY FAVORITE HAVEN.

Being appointed as Head of Hostel for the year 2023 was an incredible honor and responsibility, which I believe was embraced with enthusiasm. It provided me with the unique opportunity to contribute to the welfare and development of the so-called 'woman in marvel' – North Wing theme for 2023, while also gaining invaluable personal growth.

The core responsibility of this position is to foster a sense of unity and harmony among the hostel community that will continue within the next generations including sisterhood. In my tenure, various events and activities were organised that promoted meaningful connections, encouraging them to engage and interact with one another, which I could not have achieved without the help of North Wing LEC's.

We achieved this primary goal by promoting an environment of mutual respect and understanding, with the aim of enhancing the overall living experience for each girl's high girl. Yet, also not neglecting the evident diversity, unique backgrounds with distinct preferences and expectations, which was one of the greatest challenges experienced. However, with delicate balance of listening, problem solving and empathy to address all concerns the challenge can be solved.

TO MY NORTH WING SISTERS:

Thank you for allowing me to lead and guide you. You are by far my most favorite part of this journey. I have witnessed each of you grow and blossom into such phenomenal, smart and independent young woman in a short span of time. I want you all to know that I am beyond proud of you even on days you do not feel proud of yourselves. You have made a positive impact in my life without even knowing, a simple laugh shared with you brought so much joy to my heart hence I will forever cherish North Wing, simply because of its people.

In conclusion, serving in the year 2023 was the most enriching experience that allowed me to have a positive influence on various forms in hostel. This journey has taught me important lessons and contributed to my personal evolution. I am extremely grateful for the opportunity to have served in this role and look forward to applying the skills and experiences gained in future endeavors.

Thank you North Wing.

HEAD OF NORTH HOUSE

DAKALO MOYO
(Deputy Executive Head Girl)

One can never say “I am the same person I was yesterday,” just as I cannot say I the same person from 4 years ago. Never did I know that when I entered the gates labeled ‘North House’, I entered into a period of strengthening, true sisterhood and unraveling of my serious exterior. Memories from my first loadshedding punishment three days after arriving to our final dance session as matrics of North House, all these memories contain people, lessons and friendships that have shaped me into the woman I am today.

My growth is not my own, but is inspired by all within the North House walls.

I have learnt lessons in my position as head of North House, which were truly needed. I have learnt that a true leader is one who is reliable in character and values; a true leader does not change themselves or their vales based on fame or circumstance, unless it is self-improvement. I have learnt that as much as you can look at your predecessors as inspiration, you can never be them because you are your own person with your own story.

As Head of North House, I would like to thank Mrs Human and our HMs for making themselves available as our “North House mommies” and our leaders when the road was not clear.

I would also like to send my love and best wishes to my hostel. My message to the North Housers: remember that another person’s journey or misfortune does not determine your own. Your journey is your own and God’s which you complete at our own pace.

Do not claim another man’s misfortune. North House, you are filled with ground-breaking strength. Invest it into the right places, and rewards shall follow.

I pray for God’s grace upon you North House, because you are the best hostel. Point-blank period!

Proverbs 31:25; 30 NLT

She is clothed with strength and dignity, and she laughs without fear of the future.

Charm is deceptive, and beauty does not last; but a woman who fears the Lord will be greatly praised.

HEAD OF SCHOOL HOUSE

KHANYISILE MPHAHLANI
(Head of School House)

In January 2023, I entered a whole new world: a world of responsibility and accountability.

As Head of School House, I was constantly aware of setting the correct example for the new Grade 8s of the High School for Girls, Potchefstroom. Despite the responsibility, the year has been a dream.

The journey started with teaching the new girls every single aspect of being a Girls' High Girl WITHIN TWO WEEKS! In the process, my fellow LEC members and I got to know the girls quite well.

Each day I learnt something from these girls – life lessons that have made me a better person: forgiveness, care, consideration, love, and unity.

I believe it was destiny fulfilled for me to work with the incredible Rachel Ariyo, Lesego Monale, Silindokuhle Dube and Gemma Gericke this year. How else would I have learnt the value of forming a strong sisterhood? I further believe that it was destiny to meet each young Grade 8 girl. Together, we have reached incredible heights while gaining confidence and making memories we will cherish forever.

As I embark on a new journey which will take me beyond the gates of School House, I would like to leave you with the following thoughts.

Remember that you are more than your emotions. You may experience sadness, depression, jealousy, anxiety or fear, but you are not your sadness, depression, jealousy, anxiety or fear.

Although these very real emotions are aspects of your life, they do not define who you are. I implore you to liberate yourself from self-destructive thoughts with that truth. Moreover, let go when you need to – you cannot carry the world's guilt on your shoulders.

In addition, I would like to remind you that things usually get better when you just keep going. This means that you must still show up when your energy is depleted, and you feel as if you want to give up. Just living through your worst day is already an accomplishment and means that you have done well! Be resolute to carry on and day by day you will conquer your problems and the world.

Always remember to stay humble and use your achievements to serve others.

Lastly, keep those who love you close to you and don't forget to pray.

I love you! Stay well!

HEAD OF SOUTH WING

KENYA WINN
(Head of South Wing)

“It was the best of times, it was the worst of times.” I cannot put into words what it was like being the Head of South Wing. It was like being a big sibling and an administrator all in one. There were ups and downs, but my first and closest memories will always be the laughter.

To Ms Grobler, Ms Mosiane, Ms van Wyk, and Ms Engels (our HM’s). Thank you for being our moms and big sisters. Thank you for always lending an open heart, and open mind and an open ear. To Mrs Steiner (our SHM), thank you for everything you have done for the hostel and for being there for us, for everything you do to make hostel a home. To all the matrons and hostel staff who greet with a smile while serving, who make sure we are always well-fed, I don’t have the vocabulary to properly convey how grateful I am. I’d also like to convey my absolutely unwavering gratitude to the maintenance staff who always make sure our hostel runs smoothly.

Grade 9’s. Oh my soul! There is never a dull moment with you. Every time I’m in the kitchenette or in the quad, there’s always something new. Never lose your spark. You are so outspoken and confident and such a pleasure to work with and be around.

Grade 10’s. This year presented a lot of ups and downs, but ultimately, you guys inspire me. Your maturity that you’ve shown is so admirable. You are so strong within yourselves and I hope you never lose that.

Grade 11’s. You are definitely the quitter form of the hostel, contrasting South Wing’s famed ‘loud’ reputation. However, despite keeping to yourselves, you are an unbelievable support to the matrics and you have such amazing community within each other. You are awesome.

To my matrics. We’ve been together for almost 4 years in South Wing. We have been through so much together, and we have grown so much, individually and as a collective. I wouldn’t be the person that I am without you, I would not have been able to make it through a lot if not for your support. I love you more than my words can express.

To my LEC, Thando, Thato, Mole, and Naledi. You have made being head of hostel such an absolute pleasure. You are always there to support me, to back me up, to guide me. Through our many venting sessions and our brief talks in passing, you’ve always listened with open hearts and helped keep me grounded. I could not have done it without you. Our legacy wouldn’t be what it is without you.

South Side wil always be the best hostel (I may be a bit biased) and it is the best place I could have asked for, and the best place I have spent my years. Not just my hostel, but my second home.

Signing out.

HEAD OF DAY GIRLS

LEAH LAUBSCHER
(Executive Head Girl)

Dear Day girls

The year has gone by ever so quickly. I'm thankful I was given the opportunity to lead you and assist in managing our activities as a collective. You were a second family to me.

Thank you all for working hard and always doing your part, even when times get difficult. You are all such adaptable and dependable people.

I wish you all the best in your future endeavours.

MISS ROSENHOF

The finalists looked beautiful, and their performances were unforgettable. Their peers' support is a testimony of the unbreakable sisterhood formed in the months leading up to this special event.

Once the guests said goodnight, it was time for our Grade 8s to find out which Senior Hostel they will be joining in term 4. Every girl received a beautiful butterfly-keychain, marked with the name of their home for the next four years. It was a bittersweet moment, with joy in the anticipation of joining a new family but also sadness at the realisation that their School House journey is nearing its end. Beautiful memories and bonds of sisterhood will accompany these girls on their journey to new adventures.

MS C VAN STRATEN

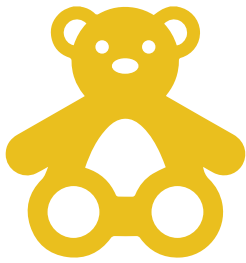

When School House was first opened in the 1920's, it was called Rosenhof. This name now lives on in the annual Miss Rosenhof Pageant, where the School House Grade 8s get to share their style and talent. The Grade 8s of 2023 showcased a myriad of talents: soccer stunts, speed-drawing, poetry recitals, dance and vocals.

The School House LEC had the difficult task of choosing only 10 of our beautifully talented Grade 8s to represent their hostel in front of their peers, the entire LEC, the Headmistress, deputy Headmistress and SHMs. Once the candidates were selected, training and preparation started with commendable enthusiasm! Models were approached to help master the runway and all hands were on deck to ensure that everything was in place before the guests arrived. The bouncers, all dressed in black, welcomed the guests and accompanied them to their seats. The excitement was palpable with laughter and photoshoots just before our Head of Hostel welcomed everyone.

The royal trio: Justine-Annah Sengooba was crowned Miss Rosenhof 2023, Esther Erasmus 1st Princess and Chichi Mpofo 2nd Princess. The sincere happiness and joy expressed by their peers is once again a sign that our girls uplift, support and celebrate each other – forever going from strength to strength.

HEAD OF ADVENTURE

TSHIAMO RAPULE

“In the world of safe hues, like black, red and white, yellow shouts: Look at me. I’m happy!”
- Joy Sewing

The journey of leading Adventure house to greater and higher heights began in 2022 right after being announced as the Head of the House. While emotions were high and congratulations were being shared, the only thought that ran rampant in my mind was “Cockhouse needs to come home!”.

This out of this world mindset, however could only take us as far as it could. My deputy, Mokgabo Lechesa, and I began to look for a theme that would help us to achieve our goals and it only seemed appropriate to choose “Planet ADV” as our theme. The inner workings of a distant, mighty and utopian planet with a society that flourishes under pressure were the perfect description for this wonderful house.

Our first competition, the inter-house athletics, resulted in a victory that saw us raking in all the trophies in one fell swoop. Mmamotheti Ramaotsoa, our Head of Spirit, a few matrices and selected Grade 11s definitely made sure that we shone on the day with an amazing song. That first victory was definitely a foreshadowing for things to come as we also won the inter-house gala. Winning certainly came easy to our house because of the cooperation and dedication that could be seen in every single member of Adventure house.

With our great come-up story, there were obviously a few challenges in the way that were meant to throw us off of our mark and discourage us; Derby week definitely being one of them. Derby week proved to be a rocky launch that ended in us eventually finding our groove and showing the other houses what we’re made of. The blanket display, courtesy of Makabongwe Ntuli, Inge Willemse and the blanket team, was a great success and accentuated our victorious streak.

Throughout my entire journey of leading the house, Dr Djan was definitely a great supporter and someone I constantly turned to in times of need. Her understanding yet firm nature aided me in making the tough decisions that no one wanted to make. The captains that were chosen beautifully executed their every task and continued to encourage the ladies to take part in everything that they could. The Adventure matrices of 2023 constantly strived to be the example that the girls needed to see and make my job infinitely more manageable. For that, I will always be grateful. This long journey has proved to be exhausting but immensely rewarding and it will forever hold a special place in my heart.

HEAD OF DISCOVERY

AOBAKWE MASEBELANGA

“First say to yourself what you would be, and then do what you have to do” Sometimes in life and in the case of this year for me, those may not be the same thing.

This stoic quote was my principle throughout 2023 because if I were to say that I expected to become the Discovery House Captain then I would be lying. However my reflection is not on what you expect in life, it is on owning whatever life may give you.

The work of the captaincy started the very day I was announced and with the counsel of Mrs Rossouw-Taljaard and my Vice Captain, Thaluki Moloto, we established the matric Disco dream team. The support and dedication of these amazing people enabled Discovery to achieve all that we did as the sorority, Delta Zeta Omega.

The fondest memory I carry with me is the moment Discovery was announced as the winners of Spirit Cup for the Inter-house Athletics. The roar that erupted from my House was pure joy.

Despite the hours of work into the song and dance and the stresses of the event, the pride that I have carried for my House for years had overflowed.

That’s when I knew that I was selected Captain for a reason bigger than me and I was determined to do everything that I could for them.

The first step in doing what you need to do is believe. Believing is a such cliché because it is true. The first marker of victory was believing in myself and my capabilities. I had always believed in my House and the year has been a manifestation of that. This beautiful Sisterhood has risen against past hardships and to be the Head of such is something I am eternally grateful for. I am proud to be an alumnae of Discovery and I will ‘Shake the ground’ hereafter in their honour.

Thank you to my family for the immense support and my Green family for being everything I know you were: phenomenal.

HEAD OF QUEST

ELIZCA MIDDELBERG

Wow! What an incredible year! Quest, you brought A-game and made me extremely proud.

This year has been quite the journey and there were a few bumps in the road, but ultimately we have reached our destination.

The girls worked hard this year and even though it was not always evident in the results it is their spirit, hard work and determination that made me proud.

As for myself, I have learned so many valuable skills this year and even though there were challenges, I would honestly do it again. I have grown so much because of this position and for that I am truly grateful.

I want to take a moment to thank everyone that contributed to our success and made the journey more rewarding.

To all the captains, you were incredible and I could not have done any of this without you, it was a real team effort, thank you. Thank you to the educators and friends that encouraged us to keep going. And to my parents, thank you for all your love, advice and support.

Lastly, I want to thank my Creator for leading me on this journey and for holding me tight during the good and bad times.

Once again, WOW! What a journey it was!

Keep making me proud Quest House!

You will always be in my heart!

With much love.

STERS

FAATIMAH-TUZ-ZAHRAA KHAN
(STERS Club President)

Dear STERS Club Members,

As we approach the end of the year, I want to take a moment to reflect on the incredible journey we've had as a Science Club. It has been my privilege and honour to serve as your STERS Club President, and I'm filled with gratitude for the dedication and enthusiasm each one of you has shown throughout the year.

Our Science Club has achieved so much together. From organising engaging events and workshops to promoting scientific literacy and environmental awareness, we've made a positive impact not only within our club but also in our wider community. I want to extend my heartfelt appreciation to our club's executive team, advisors, and all the members who have contributed their time, energy, and ideas to make our club thrive. Your passion for science and your commitment to our shared goals have been truly inspiring.

I saved the best for last, I would also like to thank Dr Djan for being an amazing mentor and helping instil the love of science in the future leaders of tomorrow. Thank you ma'am for running up and down to get our ingredients and for supervising the experiments performed. Ma'am's efforts are much appreciated. As my term as president comes to an end, I'm excited to see the future leaders who will step up to guide our club forward. I have every confidence that the passion and dedication that have fueled our success will continue to drive the Science Club to new heights. I encourage all members to stay involved and keep the spirit of scientific inquiry alive within our club. Remember, our collective enthusiasm for science has the power to shape a brighter future.

Thank you once again for allowing me to serve as your STERS Club President. It has been an incredible journey, and I look forward to witnessing the amazing accomplishments of our club in the years to come.

Wishing you all a wonderful end of the year and continued success in your scientific pursuits.

SCIENCE EXPO

LIBHASO RAMNCWANA
(Head of Science Expo)

Being the head of Science Expo has been one of the best experiences of my life. I would honestly recommend that everyone should join the Expo. It teaches you to think outside the box and do things that you never once thought you were capable of. It has taught me that there are many possible ways to solve the same problem. I am also; leaving the expo with great public speaking skills because you must be able to talk about your project to different judges which can be nerve wrecking the first time.

Public speaking, open-mindedness and time management is some of the many life skills that each participant is leaving with as they all had to have the skill to present their project, have an open mind to be able to take the judge's suggestions in order to improve the project and be able to manage their time well so that the improvements are done for the next round while balancing school life.

This year we entered 65 projects at Regionals and 10 Projects at ISF (International Science Fair) achieving outstanding results. We hosted many workshops to help improve each learner's projects and ensure that they fully understand what is expected of them. This year was the most participants (116 learners) we have entered ever with many of these ladies entering the Science Expo for their very first time.

I feel honoured to have been put in a position where I can encourage others to think of new innovative ways to help change their communities for the better.

We visited the North West University for Regionals where we saw many interesting projects that have already been tested and created. We were fortunate enough to hear professors speak to us about the beauty of our innovations and enrich us with their years of wisdom. A truly fun experience for me was when we were taught how to clap like a true scientist. The Science Expo was truly a Girls High affair as we had many learners receiving aggregates of Bronze, Silver, and Gold. We also had multiple category winners, best secondary school project and the best innovative school trophy. The whole experience is something that I would definitely recommend to any person, your subject choices truthfully do not determine whether or not you can participate, as long as you have an idea and a willingness to learn then you are welcome.

As the head of Science Expo, I would say that it requires a lot of hard work and determination but if you stay committed then you will reap the benefits because hard work undoubtedly does bring true joy.

To my fellow Young Scientists, it has been an absolute pleasure and privilege to have met all of you.

To Dr Djan thank you for being an angel and making my final year absolutely amazing.

INNOVATE(HER)

LIBHASO RAMNCWANA
(Head of Science Expo)

Being the Head of all expos and science fairs has been an eye-opening experience. Last year I was fortunate enough to participate in InnovateHer previously known as Modirigatse. Although there had been a name change the organizers have kept the principles the same with the weekly tasks and submissions.

This year we had Tamika Govender and Isabel Strauss as first-place winners of InnovateHer. These ladies had the idea of developing a medical app despite having many insecurities regarding their idea they continued through the experience and had regular brainstorming sessions thanks to the different tasks that implored them to look at their project from a new perspective.

Laurette Strauss and Leila Graham took second place. These ladies entered in the Decent Work and Economic Category. They both stated that although creating the prototype and virtual pitches at times was quite challenging proved to be completely worth it in the end. Their knowledge in business planning and entrepreneurship has been greatly expanded. It was stretching, informative and truly a great team building time.

InnovateHer has honed all the participants with time management, communication, and planning skills which are deeply embittered in Girls High culture and can be carried on in any sphere of life, especially time management. Thanks to Dr Djan for motivating participation.

Each participant received a goodie bag that contained variety of merchandise. It has been amazing to hear about everyone's ideas and all the different ways they think they can help their community. I truthfully recommend that everyone should try and participate when the opportunity arises as it leaves you with nothing less short of amazing experience.

THE JUMP

It had been an exciting experience to spend time with her during the summer. We had been engaged in a whirlwind of activity, from thrilling adventures such as camping and ziplining to leisurely pursuits like picnics, beach days and nights out watching the stars. That day was no different: we were going on a hike at the Glacier National Park.

I turned around and found her sitting on the patio looking at me with a slight haze in her eyes. She gave me a small smile and got up. Let the adventure begin I thought. Her strides accelerated until she came to a halt beside me. She laced her fingers in between mine, the movement made my heart flutter. She tugged on my arm and we made our way into the forest behind the cabin.

It was quiet and eerie aside from our breaths and steps. Through the dense oak trees, the sun hardly seemed to be visible. She pulled on my arm urging me to walk faster. The path was difficult to navigate because of the thick tree roots peeking out from underneath the earth. I stumbled a couple of times, each stumble followed by a giggle from her. The noise of water splashing on the rocks filled the air, and I knew that we were there. The oak trees slowly cleared and as if on cue, the clouds parted and the sunlight shone brightly upon the scene in front of us. The earth was covered in luscious green grass. The loud fall of water put my body at ease as I sat down on a big rock near the edge of the waterfall that plunged down into a wide river, meandering its way through the canyon. I looked at her and found her mesmerised. I could not help but smile at her she was under nature's spell.

JOIN THE STARS

"I hope to one day join the stars," Monique said as she looked outside her bedroom window at the beauty of the stars shimmering in the midnight sky. She always felt jealous of how the stars would outshine every single thing in the night sky. She was jealous of how the stars would get all the attention and how everyone would stare at them in adoration. It was no surprise that Monique felt this way, because she had always been left amongst the shadows of her own home. Being the middle child in a black, lower-class family was not the ideal life that Monique had pictured for herself. She was deemed as the "forgotten" child within her family; she was the child that everyone knew was there but just chose to ignore. Yet she could never quite understand why the shadows had chosen her timid, shy self to house them.

Monique would lie her head on her pillow every night and listen to her parents' muffled arguments through the thin walls. She tried to fall asleep and escape reality through a dreamland but in the darkness of her closed eyelids, all she could see was how her dad hit her mom every night after dinner. All she could see was the fear within her 7-year-old little brother's eyes when her dad would enter their room and threaten to beat them if they uttered a word of his abusive tendencies to anyone outside of the family. All she could see was the tear-filled eyes of her older brother the night that he finally decided to leave the house because anger toward the family situation had made a home within him for far too long. She wished she could have escaped with him, but someone had to defend his case the following morning when her parents woke up to his abandoned room and read his rushed note.

"I hope to one day join the stars," Monique whispered into her pillow as she heard the silent sobs of her little brother. The only thing that was able to comfort her was her longing feeling to receive the same attention that people gave the stars; she wanted to feel all that love and adoration for once in her life. She became desperate to make a way for that to happen.

"I hope to join the stars," Monique said as she took her last breath while her body dangled from the ceiling by a rope that dressed her neck as if it were a necklace. She finally got the attention she had wanted. Her soul drifted away as she saw the tear-filled eyes of her parents stare at her lifeless body that now decorated the room like a chandelier. "I am finally a star," she said as she joined all the others who had come before her to go alight the night sky.

DIE LEWE IS KORT

Ek onthou my eerste dag van graad een asof dit gister was.

Ek het dou voor dag uit my bed uitgespring en na my ouers se kamer toe gehardloop. Opgewonde, het ek op hulle bed gespring en met volle bors begin sing dat dit my eerste dag in die groot skool is.

Teen die tyd dat ons moes ry, het al my opgewondenheid verdwyn en met trane in my oë het ek my pa styf vasgedruk en gesê ek wil nie meer skool toe gaan nie. My pa het op sy hurke gaan sit, my reguit in die oë gekyk en gesê: “die lewe is kort my kind, voor jy jou oë uitvee is jy klaar met laerskool”. Dit is geen verrassing dat ek hom glad nie geglo het nie.

Met my eerste dag van graad 8 was ek net so opgewonde maar ook senuwee-agtig. Die matrieks het my so bang soos n bokkie voor ‘n leeu laat voel en ek is seker ek sou die Olimpiese Spele vir atletiek kon wen elke keer as ek n matriek gesien het. Maar weereens het my pa vir my gesê:

“Die lewe is kort, byt net nog n bietjie langer vas.” En weereens het ek hom nie geglo nie.

Nou is ek in matriek. Die mylpaal jaar. Die graad agt’s hardloop nou vir my weg en alles wat ek doen is een van my laastes. My laaste LO-taak, my laaste Afrikaanse toespraak, my laaste Wiskunde- projek. In n oogwink is nie net 18 jaar van my lewe verby nie, maar 12 jaar van skool ook. Ek is ongelooflik dankbaar vir die mense in my lewe wat dié jaar saam met my aangepak het.

Ek neem aan dis waar wat hulle sê: met ouderdom kom wysheid. Alhoewel ek nie graag na myself verwys as oud nie, is hierdie definitief n uitsondering, want vir die eerste keer, elf jaar nadat ek dit gehoor het, maar nie geglo het nie, besef ek my pa is reg... die lewe is kort.

CARISSA DU PLOOY
(Grade 12)

MY DROOM VIR MY LAND, SUID-AFRIKA

Ek kan myself nie ‘n Suid-Afrika voorstel waar daar nie braaie, feeste en ander Afrikaanse tradisies bestaan nie!

Ek hoop dat, in die toekoms, soos die son oor die goue en groen vlaktes sak, manne nog steeds geselsend rondom ‘n knetterende vuur sal staan. Dat, soos jy die koue naglug inasem, jy meegevoer sal word deur die krieke se simfonieë en jy die jakkalse se rou gehuil sal hoor. Dat die gelag van die vroue binne die huis en die onskuld in die stemme van kinders buite by die dammetjie gehoor sal word. Dat, wanneer die tyd aanbreek en almal aan tafel sit, stories uitgeruil sal word soos die trooskos om die tafel aangestuur word. Eerlikwaar, is daar enigiets lekkerder as ‘n laatmiddag Afrika-braai?

‘n Suid-Afrikaanse baba word deur al ons Afrikaanse feeste grootgemaak. Die jaarlikse Liggiefees is enig in sy soort en betower elke kinderhart. ‘n Mens kan vir ure na die liggies staan en jy word opnuut opgewonde oor die vooruitsig van Kersfees. Aardklop het ook ietsie vir almal: van kos, klere en kunswerke tot jou gunstelingsanger wat Potchefstroom aan die brand sing.

Daar is ook ‘n lysie wat elke Suid-Afrikaanse tiener móét voltooi. Jy móét ‘n sokkie beleef waar almal net dans, dans, dans tot hul voete seer is en die son die nuwe dag aankondig. Afrikaners ís mos plesierig! Jy móét boonop in ‘n rivier of dam saam met jou pelle gaan swem. O, en wie kan van jag vergeet? Die adrenalien, konsentrasie, en, my gunsteling, die tuisgemaakte droëwors, is verslawend!

My droom vir my land, Suid-Afrika, is dat dit net sal bly soos dit nou is. Ons kan nie toelaat om dié dinge wat Suid-Afrika en haar mense uniek maak, te verloor nie. Daarom moet ons aanhou om ons stories te vertel en Afrikaanse tradisies uit te leef, sodat Suid-Afrika vir altyd my hartsplek sal wees.

DIE VONKE VAN PASSIE

Passie. Brandende passie. Dit is waarna ek streef. Geleerdes sê altyd dat jy net jou passie moet volg, dit is al. Maar niemand stem saam as jou passie buite hulle verwysingsraamwerk is nie.

Vir elke ou tannie en oom wat vra, sê ek ek gaan Wiskunde studeer, dalk selfs Wetenskap. Hulle glimlagte is dan so breed dat dit tot by hul ore strek. Selfs my familie is bonatuurlik trots op my studiekeuses. Maar diep binne my, in 'n kamer wat ek al lank gelede toegesluit het, is daar 'n gloeiende stem wat fluisterend aan my hart klop. Dit herinner my aan my ware passie: MUSIEK!

Asek musiek speel, kan ek voel hoe ek na die piek van 'n berg gelig word. Ek voel hoe die wêreld daar onder aan die brand slaan en die vlamme saggies teen my ore asemhaal. Dit koester my. Musiek verduister al my probleme en alles wat onophoudelik in my gedagtes ronddwaal, word summier gestop. Ek dink partykeer dat musiek die ding is wat ons van diere skei. Die manier hoe ons emosie en passie in 'n tapisserie van pragtige klanke kan saamweef, slaan my asem weg en ek kan myself vir ewig daarmee toevou.

Is hierdie melodieuze vlamme nie presies wat passie is nie? Is dit nie waarna almal streef nie? Almal sê ek moet dit blus en die veilige lewe kies, een vol syfers en sekerheid, weg van die gloeiende gevaar wat my al hoe nader roep. Maar wat as ek nie bereid is om die res van my lewe in die donker te oorleef nie?

Ek is vuur en vlam vir musiek en al word die vlamme skroeiend warm, gaan ek my passie onverskrokke uitleef!

DIE LEWE IS TE KORT

Kyk! Kyk ver op die hosison. Sien jy dit? Sy klim van agter die heuwels uit soos 'n bruid by die altaar. Die somer is uiteindelik hier!

Ek het eenkeer gesien hoe blare speels met mekaar in die wind dans totdat hulle sag op die grond gaan asemskip het, maar nou is dit die blomme se beurt om hul goudgeel koppe op te lig, te glimlag en in die somerson se strale te baljaar.

Binnekort sal hierdie somerstrate met lag gevul wees. Thando en Lien gaan weer sokker op die straathoek speel. Hopelik sal hulle nie wêér tannie Annie se vensters breek nie!

Die somerson is die koningin van die hemel. Ek merk op hoe die wolke skuif soos sy opkom om plek te maak vir haar majesteit. Die koningin se hitte kan soms oorweldigend wees, maar soos 'n vriend, glimlag sy vertroostend vir ons en haar strale omvou ons soos 'n warm omhelsing.

Sy nooi haarself na die sitkamer, lê op die grond en skip 'n goue tapisserie. Die somer is uiteindelik hier ... maar my broer is nie.

Die sonskynkind het gegroet.

Die saggeaarde Thabiswa Twala het ons op 10 Januarie 2023 verlaat, soos 'n son wat te vroeg ondergegaan het. Lag, pret en liefde was sinoniem aan Thabiswa. Hy het dit soos konfetti by 'n bruilof gestrooi. Al wat ek nou oor het, is trane van verlange waarmee en sy sonneblomherinneringe aan die lewe sal hou.

Nou, wanneer ek sy gunstelingdinge soos die somerson, blomme en 'n goue tapyt sien, onthou ek my broer Thabiswa Twala.

Die lewe is te kort. Moenie die goue oomblikke misloop nie. Thabiswa het beslis nie ...

THE BURNING BUSH

How was God to talk to us through the burning bush
When we had burnt them all down?
Burnt them.
Uprooted them.
Cast them out as though they were sinners.

And what for?

Just to plant man's creed.
Wilting flowers plucked
To be put by graves.
The dying consoling the dead for the living.
Such a holy place casting a pall over the ground,
The ground from which the bushes grew.

THE PATHETIC FALLACY

The rain poured down on Monday;
A wild wet wasteland calmed only by his smile.

The sky wept bitterly the Tuesday;
Its tortured torrent tears consoled only by his laugh.

The clouds huddled close the Wednesday;
Their calculated concerns comforted only by his reason.
The rain and the clouds were all gone the Thursday;
Reluctant, but painfully persuaded only by his death.

YOU ARE EVERYTHING AND MORE

Thabi was aware and sometimes very upset that many people around her were not aware of the magic her grandmother possessed. In her eyes, Gog'Lizzy was not the ordinary pensioner. She was a sculptor, teacher and healer.

Beside her colourful collection of clay pots, Gog'Lizzy often teased that Thabi was her best work of art. Each time she told the story of her early birth, she made it clear that her hands were the first ever to hold Thabi. With a single glance at the squealing baby, she decided that she would give her the name that meant happiness. She carefully moulded her from a small ball of clay into the graceful girl who stood tall and proud. Thabi knew that her confidence and humility were the work of her grandmother's hands.

To Thabi, nothing she learnt in school amassed to the significance of the witty teachings of Gog'Lizzy. She recalled that one night she lay on her grandmother's lap with swollen teary eyes – the day that her first boyfriend broke up with her. Gog'Lizzy rubbed her back in circular motion and eventually comforted her with the analogy of boys being similar to bees. Neither of them knew to appreciate the beauty of a flower. Instead, they only took the nectar and joy from those that cared for them. Instantly, Thabi burst into sobbing laughter. She always found Gog'Lizzy's teachings to be oddly comforting and eye-opening. Whenever her forehead throbbed and cheeks flushed red, Thabi sought the cure in her grandmother's herbs. Gog'Lizzy unsurprisingly knew all the concoctions that could rid one of all ailments. Rarely did anyone of her mixtures go down as easily as a sweet treat, but they always worked. Thabi thought to herself of the wonders that could be achieved in the world of medicine if Gog'Lizzy's remedies were ever put to the test. It amazed her just how much Gog'Lizzy knew.

Sitting beside her on the bed, Thabi cast a soft look into Gog'Lizzy's sunken eyes. In them, she saw aeons of wisdom and love. She closed her hand around Gog'Lizzy's leathery fingers and thought to herself: you are everything and more.

THE CARPENTER'S SINGING HEART (FOLKTALE)

Once upon a time, there was a princess named Katherine, who loved in a castle. Katherine was a young, beautiful bachelorette. King Ronald, her father, wanted to find the best possible husband for her.

The King held a feast in a banquet hall for any suitor to come before her. They were to offer a gift to princess Katherine. The princess would then decide if she would marry them or not. Of the many men who attended, were three young men. Them being, Peter, the blacksmith, Allen, the baker, along with Elias, the carpenter. These three men went in last.

Peter approached her and offered her a large sack of gold. He promised her much more riches and treasures to come. The princess, unimpressed, sent him back home, along with his sack of gold.

She called for the next suitor, for she was growing impatient. Allen went up to her, and offered her his glazed donuts. She enjoyed his treats, and assigned him as the King's new baker, yet still rejected him.

Lastly, came Elias, who had nothing. He stood before her, with a straight posture, and began his offering. He offered her his heart, the source of one's love. He offered her his mind, so that his thoughts and ideas could always be hers. He offered her his soul, to be forever entwined with hers and cherishing it. Furthermore, Elias opened his mouth up wide and his magic heart began singing her sweet nothings.

The princess instantly fell in love with him and married him that exact day. So, it was not gold or donuts she fell for. It was a kind and admiring heart, Katherine and Elias loved happily ever after.

TO MY TULIP

It all started with hope; hope made me feel like a tulip.

Trying to show everyone love;
hoping it will get me through the year.

"Build bridges not burn them",

Yet you still have to trust to go through them.

Preparing for a blooming phase
I trusted my bridges to plant me.

And the more bricks we put in our relationships, the deeper my roots intertwined with the soil.

But to be honest, every bridge and every builder of the bridge had their own setbacks (SONDER)

To be honest that made me wonder.

Confusion raised my anxiety with no answers but many questions.

A sunny day yet I was not water;

Making me enter step 3: cooling.

Had to ground myself; by looking around and analysing my bridges before using our bridge.

And this made me grow; understanding that all tulips might be the same but underneath each of their roots were different.

To think that our roots aren't identically, brought me to this corner.

As if my eyes were closed shut but I did not see my blooming yet; although it was there.

What shut my eyes were the memories and the happiness of the moment.

Regenerating my hope!

New day New dawn but still the same tulip; hoping to multiply into more lessons learned.

EYES

The eyes of young teach the old of hope and forgiveness. The eyes of the old teach the young of life and its experiences.

Isaiah was a young boy whose eyes were filled with bright sparks of hope. Every spring, it was his parents' tradition to visit the freshly bloomed cherry blossom gardens in the city. Isaiah loved the smell of spring. Spring was a time of renewal and reminded his family of the spring that had sprung in their hearts.

However, spring did not last forever, soon winter came. One cold winter's evening, a gust of soldiers blew into Isaiah's home and ended his parent's lives with two gunshots. Thereafter, the soldiers left, but the sound of the gun had triggered something in Isaiah. It filled his body, from his head down to his toes, it was rage. The light in Isaiah's eyes had been blown out.

The resulting darkness led Isaiah through an angry and miserable life. He loved no one, hated all and killed some.

After twenty years of rage in the city where his parents died, Isaiah decided to retire to a quiet town, far from the people he hated. He settled for a home with a massive walled garden. He planted many delicate flowers from orchids to cherry blossoms. He loved his garden, it reminded him of his childhood.

One spring day, Isaiah stepped into his beautiful garden hoping to enjoy the isolated beauty, but he was met by the laughter of children. Children had entered his garden. He immediately raged out at them and told them to leave. That same afternoon he strengthened the boundary wall. The following day he visited his garden and to his surprise he found children playing again. As he was about to yell violently at the children, he saw a boy. The boy was attempting to climb the wall. Their eyes met and Isaiah was instantly transported back in time to his innocent, joyful childhood.

In that moment, the light in Isaiah's eyes was sparked again, rage left his body and his heart of hatred melted away. Isaiah swore that he would never forget those eyes as they gave him hope, hope that his inner child could be resurrected.

He helped the boy over. From that day Isaiah decided to share his garden with the children for the spring.

Just as always, spring came to an end and winter came again. This winter Isaiah was weak and frail. Isaiah was on his deathbed, with no children around, Isaiah went deep into his thoughts. He often thought about the eyes of the boy he had helped over the wall and wondered what he had been up to since that day, for the boy had not returned.

One cold morning near the end of winter, Isaiah went to his window to view his garden. He had a strong desire for spring. As he looked out his window he saw a fully blossoming cherry tree in the midst of his garden, lightly powdered with winter snow. Next to the tree he saw eyes, eyes he knew. It was the eyes of the boy. The boy's eyes were still full of hope and forgiveness. Isaiah went outside to meet him.

A spirit of peace fell over Isaiah. When he asked the boy why he had finally returned, the boy answered that once Isaiah had lifted him into his magical, beautiful garden, but today it was his turn to lift Isaiah up into his peaceful, heavenly garden. The following day the children came to visit Isaiah, but found him lying in pink, precious, delicate cherry blossoms, his eyes forever closed to the world of winter, and opened to the world of eternal spring.

ART

BRONWYN HORNSBY

Art completely changed my life. From the moment I stepped into the art class in Grade 10, I knew the classroom, and its people, would make saying goodbye, at the end of it all, extremely hard. And that is exactly what it has been. The art classroom is a safe space for so many people, because there, you can unapologetically be yourself!

Art in itself has tested my self-discipline and time management in the best way possible. It has taught me to embrace my creativity and all of my emotions, and to be fearless in my expression thereof. Even though I might not pursue art after school, I realise that my time as an art girl has allowed me to grow in ways I did not believe was possible! I will miss the karaoke parties, and our late submissions (love you Mrs Huisamen) but most especially the people.

God has abundantly blessed me with Mrs Huisamen, Nicole, Elizca, Maryam, Megan, Baki, Lesego and Clarice: best friends I will never ever forget!

ELIZCA MIDDELBERG

WOW! My experience as an art girl? I loved every moment! From our still life in Gr 10 up our final project in Gr 12! Mrs Huisamen has taught me so much and she was really an amazing teacher that was so patient with me and was always ready to help! Thank you to Mrs. Huisamen and my art class for always making our art period the highlight of my day and the art class was such a safe space where I could be myself, find inspiration and do what I love so much!

Therefore, I will say it again, WOW! We created such memories that I can now reflect upon fondly! Thank you ma'am for all your love and the treasured memories that will stay in my heart for many years to come!

LESEGO MONALE

Visual arts is one of my choice subjects I've always considered taking since Grade 8. Most people assume that you have to be perfect at art to take the subject whereas, you actually learn all the techniques and skills as you enter Grade 10. Visual arts allows me to expand my skills and express myself through artworks. At first, I found the subject challenging due to the completion of a visual diary every term that I struggled to keep up to yet I managed in the long run. The ability to create art every term was not easy but with passion to strive for my vision painted on a canvas motivated me.

Moreover, I admire the sisterhood created in the art class among the other art students because we all share the same desire to create art with one purpose in mind which is to explore our identity through art.

SERVICE INTERACT

LESEGO MONALE
(Head of Interact)

In the words of Martin Luther King “Life’s most persistent and urgent question is, what are you doing for others?”

To me, Martin Luther King communicated this message not to deride people for failing to serve, but to be a gentle reminder of its importance. This should be a constant reminder that a spirit of volunteerism is necessary to a successful life and society which alludes to the purpose of the Interact club. The Interact club is Rotary International’s service club for young people to encourage and foster the advancement of international understanding, goodwill and peace through a fellowship of youth united in the ideal of service.

The Interact committee continues to create positive, lasting change in the community. Our motto, “Service above self”, exemplifies the purpose of our club by displaying our commitment to service activities, learning the importance of leadership skills and personal integrity, demonstrating helpfulness and respect for others. With perseverance, we were able to accomplish our goals through various projects that made a great impact in our community.

After two terms of collections, we were able to donate canned food and non-perishable items to Emmanuel Hospice with the help of the school and the community. This donation assisted Emmanuel Hospice by collecting food for 75 children in need.

Additionally, we were able to collect sanitary products for 200 young ladies at Phaladi Primary School where the Interact Committee visited and made a difference by donating sanitary products, chocolates and informative cards about feminine hygiene which restored dignity and empowerment in these young ladies.

We also hosted a movie night in the Mary Hart Hall where funds were raised and sisterhood was built while watching ‘The Woman King’. This year the Interact Committee decided to create the ‘Mandela Week Program’ to assist different grades to do various acts of service instead of one activity done continuously. Moreover, this assisted the school to reach out to different organisations in need such as the Grade 8s collected shoe boxes filled with toiletries that were donated to Phaladi Primary school, the Grade 9s collected jars of soup which were donated to a local church's feeding program, the Grade 10s donated socks and scarves to the Dienssentrum where they engaged in games with the elderly. Lastly, the Grade 11s collected cat food, toys and blankets that were donated to PAWS and the Grade 12s collected baby items and cleaning products which were donated to Vessels of Mercy.

Furthermore, Interact hosted a Spring Dance to celebrate the spring season and rejoice in music and dancing.

The Interact Committee has truly accomplished all these projects with such grace that has to be commended. It has truly been an honour leading my committee of powerful young women that assist to transform lives, in addition to reinforcing key principles of selflessness, leadership and engagement.

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to inspire you to create a difference in other people's lives. May you continue to motivate others and live up to the words of Mahatma Gandhi, "The best way to find yourself is to lose yourself in the service of others".

I would not have been able to lead my committee without the help of my vice-president, Resego Smith. Thank you for being by my side and showing dedication towards the club.

Last but not least, to Ms Mokuu, there are not enough words to describe how you effortlessly put your time and energy into the Interact club in order for us all to thrive and bring honour to the club's name. Your passion for the club and support is seen which we truly appreciate.

My wish for the Interact Committee is that may it continue to represent the collectivist view of putting the goals and good of society above yourselves and inspire others.

In the words of the Rotary club motto:
"If you want to touch the past,
 touch a rock.
 If you want to touch the present,
 touch a flower.
 If you want to touch the future,
 touch a life."

SCHOLAR PATROL

THATO NKOBO
(Scholar Patrol Captain)

Come sunshine, rain or wind. The students of our school could always count on the scholar patrol to assist.

This year's team worked like a well oiled machine, ready to adapt to any and all circumstances to keep our students safe on the road. The discipline shown to their job has shined through and hopefully has inspired many to join next year. I am proud to have been the captain for 2023, as I could trust my teams to confidently do the right thing.

I could not have done this job without the love from my matrices who supported me and jumped in to help when need be. I feel that strong bonds have been made between the scholars, ones that have been built on trust and respect. I hope these will not be taken for granted and they will be used as a foundation for the scholar patrol to flourish.

I would like to thank Ms Eybers for giving me the opportunity to contribute to the service of our school and for providing us with all the guidance we needed this year.

To my team, I would like to say thank you for trusting me to lead and protect you this year. I wish you well as you fulfil your duties.

I am 2023 Scholar patrol captain. Signing out.

What an absolute blessing this year has been!

Revival has been evident in all the events including:

- Fitness Fun Day, where we played games such as bible trivia, unscramble the verse and “Broken telephone relay”
- The worship nights where we had fun praising God and surrendered our burdens to Jesus

• The spectacular Pizza and Pyjama night where had fellowship together in the presence of God and enjoyed delicious food!

• Our morning prayers are bigger than they have ever been! We gather every morning to lay our requests at the feet of Jesus, share God’s word then worship together.

Abundant thanks to the staff members who have offered their prayers and support at all the events that have taken place. May God bless you for all your recognised and unrecognised hard work!

2023 has been a beautiful year of Revival. Many are coming to the Lord and there is an increasing number of testimonies of deliverance and peace filling girls. We see the hand of God not only in the Christian Community as a whole but also in the individual lives of the girls as they are freed from heavy yokes and excelling in their curricular and noncurricular departments.

The breath of the Lord Jesus is bringing dead peace, joy, dreams and purpose back to life through the Christian Community.

All thanks to God for providing Dr Djan, Mrs Steiner and Ms Lusati as our spiritual mothers.

ATHLETICS

KENYA WINN
(Athletics Captain)

One of the many things my coach has taught me, is that you can only do your best if your head and your heart is in it.

I have had the absolute pleasure of watching our athletics team put themselves wholeheartedly into their sports. Come rain, hail or sunshine (quite literally in most cases), they showed up to practice and they gave their all. We've competed in a few Johannesburg and Germiston leagues throughout the year, which our girls placed in and beat their own personal bests persistently. We competed in smaller leagues in Potchefstroom, and also competed in the annual Inter-High, which was an absolute highlight of the year. We also had our very own stars who represented North West at various National meets during the course of the year.

I told the team earlier this year, "I'd wish you luck, but we all know that luck has very little to do with it. Your dedication, determination and hard work; that's what it is."

To the athletes. You astound me. The amount of passion you have for their sports continues to floor me. Despite frustrations, injuries, unforeseeable circumstance, despite everything you always manage to show up and give your utmost best. Your sportsmanship, your energy, your positivity. All of this makes you stand out beyond your performance on the track and field. You set out to do their absolute best and you do, time and time again. You aren't quitters, you perform to the best of your ability and most importantly you support each other. I can remember standing on the side of the tracks with you, cheering on the relay runners, or watching you run the last stretch with your teammates.

To our coaches, who push us to reach our full potential, who encourage us to be our absolute best, I cannot thank you enough. It has been an honour and a privilege to be the 2023 Athletics Captain alongside my co-captain Rachel Ariyo. This team has been a major part of my life for the past five years, and I know that you will continue to make waves. All of my admiration and adoration.

CROSS COUNTRY

LEBOGANG MODISE
(Cross Country Captain)

Cross Country season is a testament to resilience, determination, and the pursuit of personal bests. It's more than just a series of races; it's a journey of self-discovery and growth.

This Cross Country season we had to endure grueling training sessions, challenging terrains, and unpredictable weather conditions, all in the name of improving our stamina and speed.

We learnt to push our limits, support each other through it all, and embrace the thrill of racing against the clock and nature. The trails were some of the highlights of this season with the most beautiful views but most importantly the joy we would feel when we crossed the finish line.

Cross Country season is about more than just winning; it's about the camaraderie, the friendships, and the enduring memories created on the trails and this season proved to be one of the greatest experiences, that I will cherish forever, because even I personally had the privilege to represent North West at the South African championship and that in itself was a windy but enlivening experience.

It also is a time when individuals become a team, and every step forward is a victory in itself. During this journey I have noticed every single girl grow in their speed, motivation and discipline for the sport and we have all achieved greatly.

SPORT HOCKEY

REIKANTSEONA TSELANYANE
(Hockey Captain)

This year I was given the chance to be the first team's captain. The hockey team has weathered countless storms, both on and off the pitch. Over this past year, together we have faced adversity in the form of injuries, losing streaks, and difficulties bonding. However, what truly set this team apart was their unwavering spirit and camaraderie. They weren't just a group of athletes; they were a family bound by their love for the game and their shared determination to overcome any obstacle.

During those trying times, our focus shifted from winning matches to winning battles within ourselves. We learned to embrace the values of resilience, teamwork, and perseverance. We supported each other through injuries, offering words of encouragement and lending a helping hand. Off the pitch, the community that rallied behind us became our lifeline, providing the necessary support to keep the team afloat.

Through it all, we discovered that victory wasn't solely measured by trophies and titles. The true victory was in the personal growth, the bonds forged, and the indomitable spirit that defined our journey.

The team became an embodiment of what it meant to stand strong in the face of adversity and emerged victorious in the game of life. The legacy we left behind wasn't defined by the wins in the record books but by the hearts we touched and the lessons we learned, serving as an inspiration to all who witnessed our incredible journey.

As this year's captain I would like to send my thanks to the team and everyone who supported us.

NETBALL

THATO BOOI
(Netball Captain)

2019 – 2023, an extremely exciting era!

The netball space has always managed to maintain a special place in my heart, from the love of the sport as a whole to its people. The one place I can easily confirm as my 'home away from home' hence this is my most difficult goodbye message...

To Mrs Schutte (Head of Netball) & Mrs Nel (Coach), thank you for being one of my greatest supporters in this journey even during games and moments I did not feel so confident in myself. The effort and time you put in this work is unmatched! Most of all, thank you for never failing to nurture our talents as a team and for being such fantastic netball moms.

Finally, my amazing teammates! Throughout my years of playing, YOU have certainly been a part of happiness and the highlight of my days.

You make my love for the sport increase with no intention of even doing so. Thank you for entrusting me to be your captain for 2023. I have witnessed you all grow into such brilliant netballers, the tiny wins and progresses you share with me make me feel like such a proud mom.

The love I have for you is sacred and will never change, I could not have asked for a better squad! I pray and hope that the netball family may continue to grow beyond because the talent that PGHS holds is simply unmeasurable.

Good luck to all future netball players, remember that I will forever be on the side of the court cheering you on! Go out there and shine young girl's high girl.

MAJORETTES

TSHEPANG CHILOANE
(Majorettes Captain)

It is a very strange feeling knowing that it is your last time marching amongst this amazing team.

It has been a privilege to be the Captain of such an incredible team. With this, it's only necessary to thank this year's Matrics. I could not have asked for a better group to lead alongside. Your passion and determination to better the team has constantly inspired me. You should all be so proud of yourselves and what we have achieved as a team.

Reflecting on our years here as majorettes, I've found that it is impossible to accurately put into words how grateful I am for all the memories we have created here. The memories which we have made here are instilled in our hearts, minds and knees. It feels like just yesterday that we were in Grade 8 learning how to use a flag. What seems like trivial moments in time were actually the memories that we hold the fonddest, and we are forever grateful for those little moments that make up this big moment right here, at the end of our high school journey.

To Coach J and Ms Mokua, thank you for putting up with us throughout the season(s). It is truly commendable, even though in a completely unbiased manner, I think we were the best team to have. We would have been lost without the both of you, especially in the final stretch at nationals. Your constant support and confidence in each of us, and the dedication to every practice and uniform, goes to show how much you care, and we really appreciate it. Thank you for helping us move on from our minor setbacks.

Throughout the season, Coach J has often said, "We are only as strong as our weakest link." It helped to remind us that when we each contribute our lights – our passions, talents and enthusiasm, and show active participation and care for one another – the family that is the Potch Girls Majorettes beams and the light shines true.

What a season we had! After many hours of practice and 3 league competition behind us, we were crowned the North West champions in 10 out of 12 categories at the NWMCA Provincial Championships. We qualified for the National Championship that were held in Durban during the July holiday. We competed against over 20 teams from all over South Africa. We qualified for finals in all 12 categories and returned home with a silver medal, a bronze medal and a 5th place overall in South Africa.

We have all worked so hard throughout the year and watching all of our hard work payoff is incredible. Potch Girls Majorettes, congratulations on all of your successes, let's keep pushing through it and shine through all competitions to come. You have been an incredible team, and I am so grateful to have had the opportunity to be a part of you.

SWIMMING

GEMMA GERICKE
(Swimming Captain)

Brian Tracey once said, “the greatest human quality is that of becoming unstoppable and you become unstoppable by refusing to quit, no matter what happens.”

The quality of being unstoppable was most definitely evident within the swimming team of 2023. There is no doubt that swimming is a challenging sport, however the motivation portrayed by every lady on the team was evident throughout all the events swam by the team this year. Each year the swimming Captain come up with a variety of nicknames for all of the ladies on the team which gets written on their arm next to the numbers of the events that the swimmer will be swimming.

This year the nicknames were based off of The looney tunes cartoon I would like to thank every member on the swimming team for your hard work at training and even harder work while competing. Thank you for not giving up, for constantly motivating each other and for keeping our schools name high. Hard work most definitely brings true joy. Thank you for the karaoke and the fun stories that were shared on the bus rides to the various galas.

Lastly, I would like to give a special thank you to Mrs De Vos for organizing all of our events, for your compassion, understanding and support that you displayed throughout the year. The team would most definitely not be where it is today without you. It has been an honour to be the captain of such a special group of talented young ladies.

SQUASH

MMALERATO MAFISA
(Squash Captain)

We have had an incredible year on the squash courts.

From all the training we have had and the league matches we have played, I can surely say that we have improved our squash skills.

Even though we did not win the Squash League, there are many lessons that we have learnt on court that we will use to perform better in the next year of squash.

We will continue to strive for better results in the next year and bring that cup home!

Finally, Muhammad Ali once said "If my mind can conceive it and my heart can believe it-then I can achieve it."

Remember that you can achieve anything that you set your mind to and that dreams will remain dreams without goals and hard work.

CHOIR

SILINDOKUHLE DUBE

MMAKGOSI KGABOESELE

Throughout the year of 2023, the school choir was nurtured to become a space where individuals could come together to not only share their gifts of singing with the community at large, but it was also a space where choristers were taught how to develop their vocal prowess through various vocal techniques. This was made possible by their phenomenal conductor, Ms N Brink, whose hard work and love for music shaped the choir to be what it is today. Her passion for her craft and her knowledge about music kept the choir alive.

During weekday, and sometimes Saturday, rehearsals the choir practised tirelessly in preparation for performances. Some of these performances include; the CCNF Coral Celebration and the Musica Choir Festival; the ATKV Prestige Choir Competition and the Gimmes Eisteddfod where the choir received gold for both performances.

The Legato Choir Festival and Awards were a definite highlight, as the choir won the award for African Cultural Heritage Music for their performance of their African Medley. The attendance of these performances was organised by Ms C Gray who always ensured that choristers had what they needed to perform. It is also important to note that all these achievements would have not been possible had it not been for the choristers' love for their craft and their discipline.

It has been heartwarming to witness the growth of the choristers; personally, within the choir, and in terms of being there for each other and celebrating those moments together. This year has been nothing short of amazing for the choir, because beyond the things that they have learnt and achieved, they have also gained a sense of belonging and joy within the choir; they were truly a group of sisters singing in harmony.

This year was indeed a testament to the quote by Thomas Larch that reads, "Happiness is singing in a choir".

CULTURE

VOCAL ENSEMBLE

BOITEBOGO SEBOKO

A home, a family, Vocal Ensemble. At the end of every vocal practice, we do something called ‘making magic’ where we take a melody or line and build on it creating something extraordinary. Although this term focuses on making magic in a musical sense, the Vocal Ensemble made magic in other ways as well.

It took people from different grades, with unique voices, different backgrounds, different stories to tell and brought them together to make connections, a safe space, random outbursts of laughter and memories to cherish forever.

RENATE TERBLANCHE

At almost every rehearsal, ‘family meetings’ at All Girls and performances, we experienced enough joy to last a life time. Vocal gave us the space to cultivate our musical craft and see the beauty in our voices. It taught us that we deserve to be heard, because our voices have value.

The true ‘magic’ that vocal gave us isn’t just in the music, it’s in the sisterhood, ecstasy of performance and in the love it carved into our hearts. We learnt songs and sang them with flair, but most of all we made memories that are worth a world of love and happiness.

DEBATING

MOKGABO LECHESA
(Debating Captain)

LIFE IS SHORT; ARGUE MORE

When people ask me why I do debating, my answer is always, “Why not?”

No other extracurricular activity can prepare you better for life! Debating is an enriching experience which aids in individual growth not only as a debater but also as a member of society. Debating is essential for anyone who believes in using their voice as a tool to inspire, challenge or bring about change.

The most exciting event on this year’s debating calendar was the All Girls’ Festival in Bloemfontein. Although going into the festival was daunting, the experience was worthwhile. Many of the debating teams consisted of seasoned debaters who had already represented their schools/provinces at national level (no pressure). The skills we learned were invaluable as we not only learned from our own mistakes but also from the other teams, who shared their knowledge with us. We learned that the art of debating comes from refining, as your next debate will always be better than your last. Personally, my favourite memory from All Girls has to be our last preparation day – our pizza date courtesy of Mrs. De Lange.

Another event on the debating calendar was the annual PPP Derby day, hosted by Parktown Girls’ High. This competition was an exciting experience for the selected team who mostly consisted of first-time debaters. The team members learned a tremendous amount from the adjudicators’ feedback and were able to gain confidence in their debating abilities.

This year’s Inter-House Derby debating competition was a success as many non-debaters embraced the challenge of taking part in the competition. They showed dedication and commitment to their houses by diligently preparing for the exciting debates. Not only were the debates heated, but the teams illustrated true camaraderie.

The last event on the debating calendar was the North West Invitational Cup. This is a thrilling initiative from the South African Schools Debating organisation to launch a North West debating league. We are extremely proud that one of our debaters, Mbali Mabaso, was selected for the provincial squad that will represent our province during the national competition in December this year.

Debating is important because once someone learns how to articulate their opinions and perspectives, they become assets as they are the voice of the voiceless. It also encourages conversations on difficult issues in society that push boundaries that could potentially make the public question morals, values and the direction the world takes. Debating has the power to shape future leaders, particularly young women who are undoubtedly the leaders of tomorrow.

Many thanks to Mrs De Lange, who guided us with patience and perseverance. Your dedication, guidance and zeal for debating is admirable. Thank you, also, to Ms Pretorius who took the juniors under her wing and allowed them to flourish.

I look forward to debating reaching new heights at The High School for Girls, Potchefstroom!

It has been an absolute pleasure serving you as 2023 debating captain.

DRAMA

In 2023, our Drama department had many highlights. The House Play festival included six immersive short plays. The winning play, "Fuchsia and Fallacy", directed by Discovery's Thaluki Moloto, gained the privilege of being showcased at the FEDA competition in Johannesburg. Together with the Drama Squad's "Lucidity", written and directed by Kenya Winn, the wonderful performances ensured that Potch Girls High ended up under the top 15 of 100 schools at FEDA.

Our school also won the overall best Drama production at the All Girls festival at Eunice, with Jenna Bailey selected as Best Leading Actress.

Finally, our girls' performances in the Allegretto Eisteddfod competition were of outstanding quality, with the Afrikaans play, "Oorlede Verlede", written by Siné Schutte and directed by Tshwanelo Langa, winning the plays category nationally. This all led to Girls High winning the trophy for the English Culture school of the year 2023.

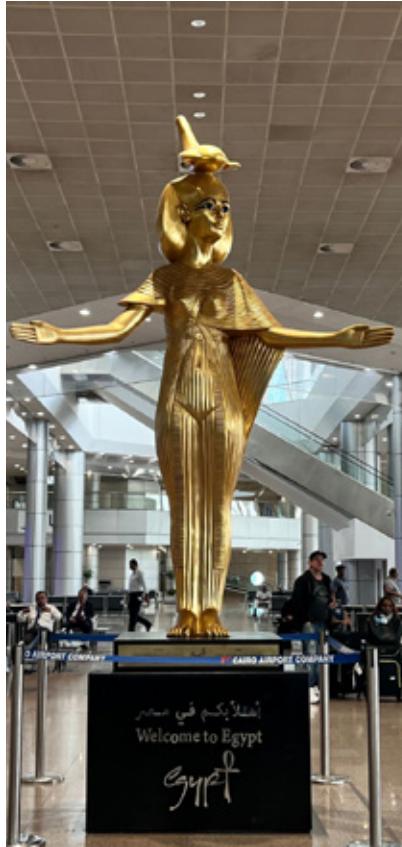

An amazing Drama year for our school, led by our passionate Drama educators, Mrs Rossouw-Taljaard and Mrs Engels.
